Donation: While on a tour of the Providence Ronald McDonald House's facilities, CleanBrands founder Gary Goldberg made a donation to help alleviate some of the problems associated with attending to a sick child.

CleanRest, an industry that creates and develops products devoted to improving the health of the sleep environment, donated 49 twin-mattress encasements to the Providence Ronald McDonald House.

The Providence Ronald McDonald house is a home-away-from-home for families whose children are receiving inpatient and outpatient medical care at one of the area hospitals. Comprising 16 guest suites, totaling 49 beds, the Providence Ronald McDonald House is almost always fully booked. Members and directors are unpaid volunteers. Numerous local and national organizations and national companies provide support through volunteerism, material donations and monetary contributions.
